After Thoughts

BY EX-ED

A few short days—and ten commencement. Paradoxically the two most trying times in the life of a college student are the extremely strenuous period of early freshman days and the swiftly flying final weeks as a senior when he parts with friends and time honored routine to embark on his great new venture.

We commiserate with the seniors of the walkers who face the first breakfast bell conserving energy for the laborious task of table walking. Their brief warning (usually a single sentence of second duration or less) shows the utmost consideration for sleeping dorm students.

—F—

Catchy and well worth remembering are the words of Professor Maxine, "The secret of success is to be simple." College life states its central principle in life thus: "Try to make the world a little easier for a few people and harder for none."

Electoral statistics—5 percent of the Pre-Theological voting for a president and one vote breaking a two-ballot deadlock.

Lifetime president of the senior class polling 25 per cent of the total number of votes.

Movie-langs of the week: the night sky over the neighboring towns which advertised Men with Wings and Sports.

Put-on—the back department—Rev. Sodt, secretary treasurer of the American Lutheran church, has been invited to Luther hall to speak. The most prominent building on any of the A. L. C. college campuses. One hundred feet of color mosaics of the college were shown in the hall depicting the work of the church, and shown to delegates to the Minnesota district conference at a meeting in Dubuque this week.

Gripes: These dirty wash basins in several Grossmann hall lavatories have been replaced by cleaning equipment in the same building when the Saturday morning cleaning of the dormitories begins . . . and others.

SENIORS TO HEAR DR. J. G. MATTES

Haefer, Schuetter
Also Speakers at Baccalaureate.

Dr. John G. Mattes of the Wartburg Theological seminary will deliver the baccalaureate sermon Sunday June 4. The faculty and graduates in academic array with the student body will meet from the college to the church for the service which will begin at ten o'clock.

This service will be preceded by six practical communion services for the grades, their relatives, and faculty members. Dr. A. E. Haefer will deliver the pre-graduation address. The Rev. R. Schuetter will officiate at the service at both services.

The faculty ladies will serve a three course luncheon after the service in the lounge of Wartburg hall. The graduates, their relatives, and faculty members are invited to attend.

Miss Margaret Kuehne of the Luthern Mutual Life Insurance Co., Des Moines, was a guest of Robert Libby, son of Clinton. Miss Kuehne was formerly a student at Wartburg.

The Waverly branch of the A. U. W. entertained the senior women of Wartburg and of Waverly on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. R. Elmer Laird. A short program including musical numbers and a talk was followed by a social hour and refreshments.

TWENTY-NINE SENIORS WILL RECEIVE DIPLOMAS JUNE 7

Dr. Schuette To Deliver Commencement Address in Wartburg Auditorium.

By John Vagts

Twenty-nine seniors will be presented as candidates for the bachelors degree during the twenty-nine graduation exercises Wednesday morning, June 7. Of the group, fourteen are classified as pre-theologians, while the remaining members of the class are completing the course outlined by Iowa state requirements for teachers. This class is composed of twenty-three men and six women.

Dr. Walter E. Schuette, Seckbach, Pennsylvania, will give the principal address at the commencement service. Rev. Carl Langhoff, chairman of the board, will confer the degrees on the forty-four students who will be presented by Prof. G. M. Neumann and award the certificates to the two year teachers presented by Dr. M. A. Sodt.

According to Prof. H. J. Kuhlmann, chairman of the commencement day exercises, definite arrangements have not yet been made for the baccalaureate. It is probable that music will be furnished by the Wartburg choir.

Of the twenty-nine seniors graduated it is interesting to note that sixteen of this number have spent the entire four years of their college career at Wartburg. Waverly having enrolled as freshmen in the class of '35, at which time Wartburg was organized in '33. It is the first to claim this distinction.

Graduates Listed.

The final commencement exercises will witness the graduation of a class of seniors, including two-year teachers. Certificates will also be presented to one four-year business student, 13 four-year students, 12 students and seven one-year teachers.

Four-Year Graduates.

The following seniors are graduates: Greek: John Ackerman, Palmer, Iowa; Clifford Burback, Arlington, Iowa; Leonard Fritsch, New Hampton, Iowa; Carl Kunkel, Waverly, Iowa; Matthias Ahonen, Iowa; Eric Seidel, Madison, S. Dak.; John Krebs, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Historian: Frederick Becker, Fredericktown, Iowa; Walter Fredrick, Strawberry Point, Iowa; Henry Koob, Plainfield, Iowa; Arthur Neumann, Waverly, Iowa.

English majors: Arlene Carpenter, Waverly, Iowa; Ruth Fritz, Sioux City; Frieda Gross, Muscatine, Iowa; Anna Johnson, Compton, Ill.; Roy Grote, Robstown, Texas; Irene Moews, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Walter Probst, Raymond, Minn.; Ruth Reiter, Spencer, S. Dak.; Belva Wroldset, Northland, Wis.

Physics major: David Chadwick, Waverly; Loren Matthes, Waverly, Iowa.

German major: Alfred Doerfler, Waverly; Charles Fink, Waukesha, Wis.

Mathematics major: Wilmet Pruching, Auburn, Neb.; Ross Nielsen, Monroe, Iowa; Egbert Vugteveen, Troyer, Iowa.

Mathematics major: Raymond Webb, Oskaloosa, Iowa.

Biology major: Herbert Adie, Meriden, Iowa.

German and Greek: Adam Graf, Sioux City, Iowa.

Two-Year Teachers.

The following are two-year teachers who will graduate: Eva Ackerman, Denison, Iowa; Arla Bentley, Waverly, Iowa; Dorothy Brinkley, Belle Fourche, S. Dak.; Edna Egan, Sioux City; Mabel Pipko, Redfield, Iowa; Carolyn Smith, Waverly, Iowa; Mary Weier, Amesbury, Mass.; Marjorie Wolf, Lincoln, Neb.; Louise Wycoff, Onawa, Iowa.

Two-Year Business students:

GROSS WILL EDIT FORTRESS; SANDROCK, BUSINESS MANAGER

Student Body Selects Two Juniors To Direct Annual Publication.

By Norma Neukauer

Eleanor Gross, junior from LaMoille, Illinois, was elected Fortress editor and Sigmar Sandrock, Bellevue, Iowa, junior, was elected book editor selection held Thursday morning during the regular student body convention period. Other candidates for editor were Roland Wacht and Esther Wachter. Candidates for business manager included Raymond Kromberger, Andrew Timmick and Norbert Augst.

Mrs. Gross has been outstanding in extra-curricular activities as well as in scholarship. "Elle," as she is known, was named Wartburg's one and "Who's Who" member of Waverly. During the past year she has presided as homecoming queen and has served as assistant editor on the Trumpet.

Act in Societies.

She also was a member of the student council and pep club secretary-treasurer. She will select next year's president of the domestic club. As W. A. M. proxy, and member of the Fortress staff, Lucifer League, Sigma, and the girls' basketball squad she has been kept busy.

Eleanor's freshman and sophomore years were spent almost as full of participation in the various campus activities. As a senior in Mendota high school she was captain of the 1938 football team.

Sandrok Also Versatile.

Mr. Sandrock, a pre-theological student, was a president of the Luther League in his past year. He was also head cheer leader, a member of the pep club, and former business manager of the Trumpet.

"Sandy" has participated in intramural basketball, baseball, and track. He is captain of the choir and male quartet. He counts among his many accomplishments that he is a member of the "Gas House Gang."

COMMENCEMENT WEEK SPEAKERS

Rev. Walter E. Schuette, Seckbach, Pennsylvania, will be the main speaker at the annual commencement service in the Wartburg auditorium, June 7.

Dr. John G. Mattes, professor of theology at Wartburg, recently at Dubuque, Iowa, will deliver the baccalaureate address in the Wartburg auditorium on Sunday, June 4.

HOLM ELECTED TRUMPET EDITOR AT SPECIAL STUDENT ELECTION

Clinton Sophomore Assumes Duties

Next Year.

Lewis Holm, Clinton sophomore, was elected winter-semester Wartburg Trumpet by the student body to succeed Charles E. Schmitz, who resigned in order to enter the seminary at Dubuque, according to information recently released to the student council by the student council.

Mr. Holm present associate editor of the student paper, feature and general news writer, having a well rounded background for the various duties he assumes. He was editor of the freshman issue and gained many favorable reviews from surrounding papers on his feature poem, "The Frazied Knight Who Lost His Knight."

Ericksen Summer Course.

Clinton's Holm plans to enter a summer course in journalism to be taught by Professor Kuhlmien by correspondence, in addition to broadening his back-

Shalkausner Attended Church Conventions

Rev. Carl Shalkausner, Wartburg city director, attended the Minnesota district convention of the American Lutheran Church at Winona, Minn., on Wednesday of this week. On Thursday and Friday he attended the Illinois district convention in Chicago.

Strawberry Point, Iowa.

One-year teachers: Barbara Freyman, Boscombe, Wis.; Grace Jensen, Fairbank, Iowa; Eunice Bay, Rockwellton, Iowa; Ruthie Jackson, Waverly, Iowa; Dorothy Wible, Lost Nation, Iowa; Esther Wolf, Bureau, S. Dak.; Esther Zwanitzer, Tripp, S. Dak.; Esther Zwanziger, Waverly, Iowa.

Two-year business students:

ground in the field of journalism, Mr. Holm hopes to use extra time gained in this way to complete his four-year course in three years.

Mr. Holm is enrolled in the pre-theological department at Wartburg and plans to study English in his free time. He has been participating in the choir and the quartet in the church organization of his barton, so far has he been the admiration of leading campus critics.

Athletes Instinct.

Athletes claim a fair share of their time both of the intramural and inter-collegiate nature. In the fall of 1938, Mr. Holm, number one man on the college football team, and has furnished stiff opposition to the leading racquet swings in the country whom he has met this year.

Besides the pre-theological society Mr. Holm is a member of the Prayer Fellowship, the Luther League and the Pep club, not to mention the fact that he is a novice in the "Gas House Gang".

Home Economics Class to Entertain

As a practical application of knowledge learned in the classroom of economics, food, etc., the girls will entertain the board of regents during dinner in the dining room of the department Tuesday, June 6.

The menu will be selected from suggestions of the students, who will plan individual meals with recipes, colors, etc., descriptive of nutritive value, and time of preparation.

The project will climax the series of events which will include the place of the customary written examination. The group will also be graded on ability, perfection and cooperation with each other.

NINETEEN GRADS ACCEPT CALLS

Placement Bureau Finds Positions for 61% of Graduate Teachers.

The Placement Bureau, headed by Dr. Wiedenanders, has been making steady progress in finding positions for the graduates. Nineteen out of the 61 students who have accepted teaching positions and there are prospects that the rest will be filled in the near future. The record of 61% placement is better than any in recent years. Wartburg, far ahead of the average college placement of graduates according to a national survey by the individual teacher placement reports show that about 50% of American college graduates will be placed within 90 days after graduation.

The following high school teachers have obtained positions: David Chadwick at Waverly, Iowa; Edward Clegg at Waukon, Iowa; Gertrude Grossman at Martinburg, Ia.; Ross Nielsen at Blairton, Ia.; Egbert Wagner at Garrison, Ia.; and Belva Wroldset at Fenton, Ia.

Elementary teachers who have been placed are Martha Wold at Waverly, Ia.; Evelyn Anderson at Royal, Ia.; Pauline Holt at St. Mary's, Ia.; Albie Plutho at Danforth, Ia.; Esther Weyoff in Iowas county, Iowa; George Nelson at Bremer county, Ia.; Miriam Clegg at Pocahontas, Ia.; Dorothy Wolfe in Clinton county, Ia.; and Fionnie Axteil in Clayton county, Ia.

Carroll Holmgren started work at the Luther League office Monday, May 22. Carolyn is a graduate of the one-year commercial course.

A Little Cloud—A Mighty Rain

During the past year notable improvements and remarkable progress has been made in the organization and procedure of Wartburg college. A large increase in enrollment has been recorded. The high standard of dining hall service has been maintained and improvements have been made in the facilities. The Wartburg Players have planned three full length plays. A debate squad has been organized which won added forensic honors for Wartburg. Wartburg's new band has presented concerts on several occasions. The museum has been moved and reorganized, and many other improvements made. Yes, 1938-39 has been a year of signal improvements.

Perhaps these improvements are small and perhaps even the aggregate may not appear startling to some, but may we site a similar situation in old Testament history. We read of Elijah sending his servant to see if there was any rain. In his prayer for rain to break the drought, His servant came back and said, "Behold there ariseth a little cloud," and that little cloud was the beginning of a needed downpour which watered the parched soil. May we look upon the improvements made upon our campus during the past year as a little cloud which foreshadows the greater and better things which God has for our college.

An Infant with Growing Pains

During the past school year a new organization has sprung up on the Wartburg campus and has grown at a surprisingly rapid rate. The Wartburg band, under the direction of Prof. E. G. Heist, has developed phenomenally in size and experience this year mainly because of the faithfully attended weekly practice sessions.

Besides stirring the football and basketball teams on to the fighting spirit which is so necessary for victory, the musicians have delved into the classical arena, and have appeared before the student body; several times, becoming increasingly popular.

Warthogs should be proud of our band because it is an illustration of the spirit of the "Greater Wartburgs" embodied in diligent practice under capable leadership. May our infant organization continue to grow and in future years assume its rightful position among the most important organizations on the campus.

A Word of Appreciation

May we take this opportunity in this last issue of the Trumpet to thank our advertisers who have made this paper financially possible. Likewise the forgotten heroes of the business staff should be thanked by Clifford Burrack who has made the mountain-sized task of paying for each issue a proverbial mole hill. Then too, the business department has facilitated our work by using valuable time to type our copy.

It is our sincere wish that your new editor, Lew Holm, might receive the same splendid cooperation which your passing editor has received from the entire staff, student body and all others who have joined in making the Trumpet what it is.

PRE-THE

Baccalaureate

"For unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required; and of whomsoever little is given, of him shall ask the more."—Luke 12: 48.

One day a rich man's son named Alcibiades came to Socrates. He wanted to know if there were any virtue after knowledge was a searcher after virtue.

Socrates said, "And Alcibiades, how do you become educated?"

Socrates said, "What can you do? Can you drive a mule to the Acropolis? Can you bring one of those stone blocks of marble to be put in the Parthenon?"

"Oh, no, the mulete does that,"

"Oh, you drive the chariot?"

"Oh, no, he charioteer does that."

"Alcibiades, can you carve a statue?"

"Oh, no, we hire our statues carved!"

Well, then, can you cook your dinner?"

"Oh, no, we have cooks to do that."

Socrates' ready answer annoyed him as he said, "If it is strange to Alcibiades that your father should give to his humble servant a better education than he does to his son. And Alcibiades went away sorrowfully, for he had lost ease and was slothful."

The Facts!

By now, we should have at least ten thousand facts about the manifold traits of nature. I maintain that the power now lies within us to think as deeply as we like, to explore the golden circuit of knowledge. We have the basic principles of the world and religion. The tools are in our hands with which we shall build either a stumbling block or a stepping stone.

Granting then, that we have a fundamental education, Christian ethics and diverse elements we shall have to guard against two false principles. First the principle of "Here we stand." Life is not a static thing but a dynamic, not dreaming but doing. Christianity has not failed but men have failed to apply it to their needs. Too often the church has been inactive and that Christianity will take away our burdens and our cares. God wants that anything shall not do that.

Two Parts of Service Are Open

It is through the carrying of our burden that we may make strong. There are two ways of helping a neighbor. One is by taking some of the load off his shoulders, thereby diminishing his burden. The other is by carrying his load. Christian service pertains to the latter. Christ said, "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." He did not say I will take away your afflictions but he will give you strength to bear them.

Here We Stand...

The world will not tolerate the individual who would not participate in the great cause of saving. "Here I stand, thou owe me a living." At least to this extent we should be educated. So instead of saying we are having "Here we stand" as our motto let us do otherwise and—

"Let us stand and bear our cross." Our cross will be hard.

As we have to conquer souls to cheer with dead and song."

The second principle that we as educated Christians must guard against is "I belong to a world of scholarly sects." Let us always remember that we belong to himself alone. No matter where we go, we cannot isolate ourselves nor give any show of superiority. We must remember that this attitude that we are just as good as the next man but not one particle better. Remember that the cross of Christ the ground is level.

With this as educated Christians should be ready to take our place in life respecting the cause of Christian service and brotherhood and with all the vim, vigor and enthusiasm possible be prepared to do whatever is right and just, never forgetting that "unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall much be required."

Admonition and Commendation

Graduation always means an abundance of advice, commendations and "what have yous" for the honored seniors, and it is with no small amount of apprehension that we venture to add our words to the growing clamor of voices.

We could spend hours in lauding outstanding personalities—and every personality is outstanding in its own right and would deserve due recognition—but neither time nor space permit this. We must content ourselves rather with a few parting words, both of admonition and of commendation.

We admonish you, the senior members of the class of 1939, to go out into a life of faithful service, whether it be delayed by further education or, whether it be an immediate putting of the hand to plow. Do well all that you do and give praise to the Master of all good workmen." Remember Wartburg's slogan almost unique in width and depth and pray and work for an ever-growing nation.

In commanding you may we take the words of Paul which like the Grand Canyon of the Colorado have been washed by the rivers of time, but which each passing day finds more beautiful. "The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you."

STUDENT OPINIONS

When a democratic form of election becomes so absurd that an organized clique of voters in class election can almost elect their candidate with less than a fourth of the votes cast, something should be done.

For example, in an election for sophomore class

comprised of an organized group of less than a fourth of the voters, the result nearly elected a candidate with wide aspirations on the candidate's behalf.

Was not the choice of the majority as shown by the run-off election.

In student body elections recently two votes decided an election which was not a majority of the votes cast.

The junior class made a wise move when before electing a student council representative they must be elected by majority vote which will be a wise move to make in all student elections.

In order to make this possible it may be necessary to have two ballots. The two should be selected on the first ballot and be taken to the second ballot taken, thereby guaranteeing a majority vote.

This would be a fine problem for the new student council to take up. They could possibly adopt a resolution that all students should be represented by majority vote.

At least the members will be able to suggest a solution to the problem.—A Sophomore.

ACTORS PRESENT "SEVEN KEYS TO BALDPATE"

Mystery Drama to Close Dramatic Season.

"Seven Keys to Baldpate," a mystery farce in two acts by George M. Cohan, will be presented at Wartburg Auditorium Monday, June 5, at 8 p. m., as the final production of the Wartburg Players. The comedy is based on a story by John Galsworthy by Earl D. Biggers and has had many successful showings both on stage and screen.

A cast of 14 characters carries the intricate plot to a thrilling climax in the final scenes of "Seven Keys to Baldpate." The play is written in a prologue, two acts, and an epilogue, and is being directed by Prof. H. J. Kuhman of the English and journalism departments.

Sixty-four as Magee Has Lead
William Magee has a lead in a mystery farce in two acts by George M. Cohan, which will be presented at Wartburg Auditorium Monday, June 5, at 8 p. m., as the final production of the Wartburg Players. The comedy is based on a story by John Galsworthy by Earl D. Biggers and has had many successful showings both on stage and screen.

Veteran Cast

Most of the members of the cast have appeared before in productions of the Wartburg Players. They are as follows:

Eliza May, Edna Massie, Mrs. Rhodes, Ada Mae Little,

Pete the hermit, Albert Schumacher, Myra Thornhill, Marjorie Rearden,

John Blane, William Weiblen, Mary Norton, Eleanor Gross, Mrs. Rhodes, Ada Mae Little, Pete the hermit, Albert Schumacher, Myra Thornhill, Marjorie Rearden,

Lou Max, Edwin Schick, Fred Cargan, Lester Bergmann, Thomas Hayes, Raymond Krenzinger, Jiggs Kennedy, Norman Orth, The Owner of Baldpate, Marvin Kampf, Policeman, Luther Meyer.

Presentation of "Seven Keys to Baldpate" will mark the end of the dramatic season in the history of the Wartburg Players. This organization of approximately 35 members has grown during the past year and a half. In December they sponsored the production of "Minnek," a comedy by Kaufman and Ferber. During the past year a religious drama by Channing Pollock was presented—and now "Seven Keys to Baldpate," a mystery melodrama.

Several Wartburgers won prizes at the window shopping night at Waverly held last week. The winners were the following: Ada Mae Little at the Midway Grocery and Hulda Krause at Trigemers.

Miss Irene Drewelow Presents Program of Well-Known Classical Compositions

Miss Irene Drewelow, soprano soloist from Bell's Foreign School, performed a vocal recital in the Wartburg Auditorium. She was accompanied by Miss Norma Neubauer. Miss Olivia Mardorf, pianist, and Miss Mardorf played various piano selections during the intermission.

Miss Drewelow sang the following selections: "Arria Dulcis," "Thomas Tallis' 'Spem in Alio Luceo,'" "Flower" by Bridge, "Third Bird" by David, "I Know My Redeemer Lives," by Hand, "Bad Song," by Hand, "Wings of the Night" by Watts, "When I Was Seventeen," a Sweet Melody," "Afternoon" by Lully, "Lullaby" by Brahms, "The Year at Spring" by Mrs. Beach.

Miss Neubauer played the following selections on the piano: "Lullaby" by Chopin, "Hungarian Peacock Brillante" by Bohm, "Polka Brillante" by Bohm, "The Swan" by Macfayden and "Country Gardens" by Granger.

New College Catalogs Received from Printer

A new and larger number of the Wartburg college bulletins has recently come from the printers' presses in neat blue-green paper covers.

Few changes were noted in the general program of the bulletins, which will not be detailed. They will be included in the regular board list. The grade point system has also been changed so that an "A" now counts as 4.00 instead of 3.80.

The average required for graduation has been raised from 1,000 to 1,000 on the basis of the new scale.

Several variations in courses were noticed especially in the speech and journalism departments.

DR. A. BURKHARDT SPOKE IN GYM

Former Harvard Professor Lectured on "Form in German and Italian Art."

Dr. Arthur Burkhardt, former Harvard professor of History for 24 years, who has made the last four years writing books and lecturing in Europe and who is now teaching in biology in Waverly, presented an illustrated lecture on "Form in German and Italian Art" in the Wartburg College auditorium Friday evening, May 26, at 8 o'clock.

Professor Burkhardt is a brother of Dr. Oscar O. Burkhardt, a graduate of Wartburg, and a professor of the German department at the University of Minnesota. Dr. Burkhardt, Prof. Burkhardt, received in Berlin, Vienna, Dresden, and many other European cities. He is now on a lecture tour of American colleges and has already spoken at Columbia, Princeton, Dartmouth, Ohio Wesleyan, Lehigh, Smith, Wells College, and Iowa and Minnesota Universities.

Three outstanding books written by Professor Burkhardt are: "Mythology, Personality and Accomplishment"; "Our Ferdinand Meyer, the Style and the Man"; and "Introduction to German Painting." All of these books were published by the Harvard University Press.

At the Wartburg Club meeting which was held in the reception room of Wartburg Hall, Friday evening, May 26, the speaker was invited to speak to the students.

Lead tea and water handed to the kittenball players, not to mention pie to the Trumpet editors, shows the spirit of cooperation our department of physical assistance.

This cooperative spirit is truly exemplary.

SEVEN PRESENT VOICE RECITALS

Students of Mrs. Schmidt
Were Featured in Concert
Before Auditioning Audience.

Seven voice students of Mrs. Elizabeth B. Schmidt were featured in a recital May 11 in Wartburg Auditorium.

The program was as follows:

"Wherever You Walk" by Weller; "Prayer" by Amy McGuire; "The Blind Ploughboy" by Arthur Neumann; Malotte's "The Blind Ploughboy," by Ruth McCaffrey; "Hullaby," "The Floral Dance" by Paulette Erickson.

Another student Ruth Mardorf and teacher Ruth Deibler's "Sonata Two" on the piano. The program concluded with "Handel's 'Gebet'" and Shubert's "The Toreador" sung by Richard Bunge. Foster's negro spiritual "Were You There?" and Pollock's nostalgic "Water Boy" by Milton Johnson. Walter Price concluded the program by singing Massenet's "Song of Flight" from the French opera "Hérode."

Instructor Accepts Summer Position

Miss Grace Roark, instructor in English and elementary education at Wartburg, will be on the summer session faculty of New Mexico Normal University at Las Vegas.

She will instruct in the education department for a period of ten weeks. The New Mexico Normal University is accredited by the North Central Association.

After the close of the summer session Miss Roark will accompany her two sisters on a trip to Santa Fe and the Carlsbad Caverns.

Due to the altitude of Las Vegas, the climate is very healthful, Miss Roark says.

HOLM, FRITSCHEL, SHIFFLER SPEAK IN CONVOCATION

Programs Include Chemistry, Religion Bible-Knowledge.

"Put first things first" was the message of Rev. Arthur Holm of Cedar Falls, who spoke in convocation Tuesday night.

Rev. Holm compared the view of life to that of an artist. It must be done perspective with an eye for the real that instead of dwelling with details.

"Put God before men." Put him in the center of your picture, was the advice of the pastor.

The two other points mentioned were "Put the soul before the body" and "Put charity before time. It is our lot. Time is only our preparation for it."

Christ Attacks

Magdalene Hall brought Rev. T. Fritschel of New Hampshire to the convocation period as guest speaker. He pointed out what Jesus did for those who were rejected by Christ.

Among the attractive qualities Prof. Fritschel listed His steadiness, humility, kindness, understanding heart, magnificence of programs, love, and deity.

"His love, and the special," is a most wonderful quality of Christ. His supreme quality is His deity. He is able to be revealed in actual purposes and meaning of life.

Student Chemists Speak

Norman Becker, advanced senior who is a leader in the junior in the pre-medical course, presented the convocation program Wednesday May 17, with a discussion of sulfanilamide, the great medical aid which science has recently given to the world.

"Sulfanilamide's healing powers come from its power of drying," stated Mr. Becker after giving a history of the chemical. Among those diseases he listed that have been cured by the septic sore throat. There is danger in administering sulfanilamide without supervision.

"The student who is not the chemistry student, has no competition for the position of the century's greatest medical discovery."

Ascension Day Observed

Ascension Day was commemorated Thursday, May 18, by a special religious service and a meal took place at Dr. John Hiller's which he emphasized the importance of the ascension of Christ to heaven.

"Christ came in order to be nearer to us," said the Christianity professor. "Christian religion would never have become universal if Christ had remained here."

Dr. Hiller continued, "We are a colony of earth. We should try to build a bit higher right here. Then our spiritual world will be more concrete than the world outside."

Philosophy of Success. Prof. E. Liedmann, head of the philosophy department, spoke on "Achieving Success" in convocation on Monday, May 22 pointing out that success is a strange thing which we can pass by in our daily grind.

"Failure," asserted Prof. Liedmann, "is only when you fail to learn from mistakes. To succeed you must be ready to take another step when the ground under foot begins to quake."

Where is success? The answer lies in the words of General Who will teach us to lead a life of service. If we do this, we may err, but in the end we cannot fail.

Oehlwein Pastor Speaks

That a knowledge of the Bible is more important than any other education was underlined by Rev. H. C. Schiffler of Oehlwein when he spoke in convocation Tuesday, May 23.

"The Holy Ghost will lead you into truth which is vital," said Rev. Schiffler. "If you have that you have all. If you don't, you have nothing."

"Make use of the Bible," was the advice of the Oehlwein speaker. "Read it, use it in your private devotions. The Holy Spirit can guide you in all truth."

Luck

Rev. R. C. Schlueter, college pastor from Waverly addressed the student body Wednesday May 24 on the topic of "Luck" and emphasized that we ourselves are generally responsible for what we call our "luck."

"Is there such a thing as 'luck'?"

asked Rev. Schlueter. "We Christians believe in a will of God which is good and robes Him as a moral agent with power to chose and make up His mind." Since man chooses it is he who is responsible for his actions. In those cases when we analyze those cases, when we notice that there is a great deal of personal will power and personal dependence on their part, and not merely 'luck.' As Christians we should likewise work and apply ourselves, and not depend upon chance."

New Facts about Old Grads

By Esther Weira

In the last issue of the trumpet, a news item of the alumnae group told of the 25th class of 1937, compiled by Estelle Weira, president, and the Vockeler secretary and treasurer. This letter concerns the 25th class letters written by each member to Veileker. The summaries are so interesting that we'd like to quote a few. There are a tribe too long for that so well have to chop them up quite a bit.

Paul Sehrab has been working in Germany since 1937. He plans to attend the University of Münster this summer and take up physical education.

John Groenewold is a building Capitol Union. He is enjoying his work. He has preached his first sermon, teaches Sunday school, makes sick calls, etc.

Edgar Jahn has joined the athletic teams of Rockwell high. He's very much interested in fishing and his eyesight is excellent.

Rolle Neuhauer is present at Ewing and finding his teaching experience in Maynard—and some time in Ewing, well, she is engaged to "George" Marckert, senior in the seminary.

Hildegard Braulik is teaching at a German parochial school in Toledo, Ohio. She plans to attend the Luther League convention in Baltimore and spend three weeks in Germany.

Rev. Norman Haas is working as home missionary in Highland Highway, Calif. He also has been lecturing on the home of the University of Southern California.

Ina Veileker is taking nurse's training at Cleveland, Ohio. She has been reading many hair-raising stories of the profession. She has gone through. Nevertheless, she has graduated from the hospital.

Ervin Grossman is now "Professor" at Helmen College, Hebron, Ind. He is teaching college courses, including drawing, and supervising the children during lab periods. He will spend his summer vacation in India.

Prof. W. Schaefer, head of the biology department, gave a discussion of sandhills to the students at the meeting of the Waverly

Golf, Dave Heyman, Erich Hutter, Erwin Seidel, Carl Schulz, Martin Askermann, Walter Pfeiffer, William Bokert, Herbert Joch, John Pashnians, Jerry Reiff, Arthur Nickel and Ernst Stachling.

The semi-annual class letter is a most unusual way of "keeping in touch"—with we had more of them.

It has been a pleasant task to write the column. I have liked reading your former class letters, and letters from relatives were glad. Keep on sending information—it makes interesting reading for your class mates.

SENIOR DAY WELL ATTENDED

Sixteen High Schools Send 264 Students To See "College in Action."

On Wednesday evening 10, 264 students and five family members from 18 neighboring high schools came to participate in Wartburg's fourth senior day. The purpose of the day was to give future students a college in action.

From 8 to 11 o'clock there was orientation in the college gymnasium. All classes were invited to witness until 11 o'clock, when convocation was held in the college gymnasium. At this time the mayor of Waverly, John H. Johnson, and the president of the school board, Dr. John Hiller, addressed the group, and the Wartburg choir gave several selections.

The afternoon was devoted to sports. At 12:30 there was a baseball game between Rockwell and Wartburg. Carl Popiel and Popiel coached by C. Opperman. The result of the game was Rockwell 15, Popiel 4. Penn met Wartburg at 1 p.m. The Knights won easily. President Braulik addressed the group, and the Wartburg choir gave several selections.
